

Trip to the NAAC Centre at Tung Chung

Summary

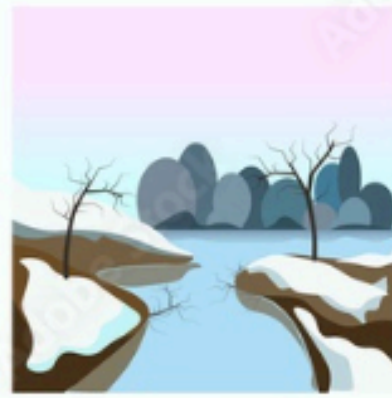

- So far, we have covered basic pronunciation (sound) of all letters. Of course, the complete phonics includes more contents, such as fixed sounds for some letter combinations. However, those contents are too artificial from my view, so they are excluded.
- This means you will still encounter difficulty when spelling some words. Do not be afraid. Just learn them by heart and you will improve with time.
- There is no need to recite the notes. You will remember those rules naturally when you have known enough words.

V. Our Place in the World

- (Play Video: Simplified Chinese Subtitled, 9min)
- Us: Roughly 1m
- The Known World: $10^{-16} \sim 10^{24}$ m
- (40 zeros)
- Our knowledge about the world today is largely written in English, so if you are interested, please pay more attention to English!
