(MORE THAN) JIAYI GUO

Growth.

Growth (n.) the process of developing or maturing physically, mentally, or spiritually.

With all my senses engaged.
Sight, hearing, smell, taste, touch,
And feel. Feeling the passion and love.
Welcome to my journey.

So this is what it feels like to see the reality of what was once portrayed only in cartoon movies.

The Multifaced.

I experience a weird paradox, where everything is oddly foreign, yet the juxtaposition of them is strangely familiar.

Streetscape.

“If a wall is not blank, we want to paint it with colors. If it is painted, then we don’t paint over it because it is complete.”

Becoming...

It takes a lot to be different from who I usually am.
The right time, place, and people.
I had what I needed to break free.

maybe a new me

and yes, I do vibe with Cactaceae.
