Creating a MyAccess Profile

These steps apply to all Access Medical sites

Begin by going to your Access homepage while connected to your institution.

*Creating an account while connected to your institution will automatically link your profile to all the Access products your institution offers.

Next, locate the MyAccess area in the bottom left corner.

Next, click Create Free Profile.

Helpful tips:

- You must be logged in to your MyAccess account to work on cases, create quizzes and use other personalized resources.
- To keep your MyAccess account active, you must sign in every 90 days though your institution whether on-site or through VPN.

The screenshot shows the McGraw-Hill Medical Access homepage. The top navigation bar includes 'Sign In' and 'McGraw-Hill Professional'. The main content area features a carousel of book covers, including 'HURST'S THE HEART', 'Interventional Cardiology', and 'COLOR ATLAS and SYNOPSIS of ADULT CONGENITAL HEART DISEASE'. Below the carousel is a 'Discover' section with three featured items: 'HURST'S THE HEART', 'The 2 Minute Medicine Publishing Group', and 'Dr. Monteleone's Practice-impacting Highlights'. At the bottom left, a 'MyAccess' section is highlighted with a red box. It contains the text 'Sign in to Activate More Features:' followed by four bullet points: 'Use your institution's license keys from anywhere.', 'Save your favorite content across all devices.', 'Organize your favorites into customizable folders.', and 'Get access to Q&A and Review Questions.' Below these points are two buttons: 'Sign In' and 'Create a Free Profile'. A red arrow points from the 'Create Free Profile' button to the text 'Create Free Profile' written in white on a red background.

Please complete the required fields then tick the Privacy Policy and Terms of Use checkbox.

Finally, click Create Profile
