

Mimo FlashCast awarded Future's Best of Show Award, presented at InfoComm 2025

Orlando, FL — June 12, 2025 — Mimo, the leader in small-format commercial displays and AV solutions, is proud to announce Mimo FlashCast, an innovative visual alert overlay solution, was awarded Future's Best of Show Award at InfoComm 2025, presented by AV Technology.

Future's Best in Show Awards are evaluated by a panel of engineers and industry experts, and are selected based on innovation, feature set, perceived value and application in serving the industry.

Winners receive a crystal-glass trophy for display at the InfoComm Show and will be featured in AVTechnology, winners will also be featured in promotional material for the awards which includes online articles, newsletters, social posts and subscriber-facing emails.

Mimo FlashCast is a visual alerting and real-time messaging solution that sends quick, real-time notifications across any HDMI-enabled screen, smartboard or display. Ideal for campuses, hospitals and emergency communications in corporate offices, FlashCast uses secure cloud connectivity to overlay vital updates instantly without disrupting current content. Flexible, affordable and easy deployment.

"The products nominated for the Best of Show program, provide an outstanding overview of new technology on the show floor and shine a spotlight on the very best in professional AV," said the awards editorial team.

"Mimo FlashCast is our answer to an unmet need in the AV market to enable disparate HDMI devices to deliver emergency and everyday messages," said David Anderson, Founder and CEO of Mimo. "We've always been known as providers of high quality small displays and tablets, and we are thrilled to be recognized for our innovative AV solutions.
