

Granting of Rights and Permissions for Use

Material being granted of rights and permission for use

“Integrated Human-Nature Relations”

*Book #1 of Integrated Human-Nature Relations:
Ethnobotany and Uses of Native Plants in the Bosque by American Indian Tribes of the Southwest: An Integrated/Transdisciplinary Approach to Ecosystem Services*

*Book #2 of Integrated Human-Nature Relations:
Traditional Ecological Knowledge (TEK), Ethnoecology,
It's Use in Indigenous Communities and Native America:
A Compendium of Historical Ethnobiology*

*All future books for the series “Integrated Human-Nature
Relations” which was written and published by Tyler
Pounds*

I (Tyler Pounds-Grantor) give rights and permission for use to said grantee or grantees: The United Nations (UN-Council), United Nations Indigenous Peoples Council (UNIPC), The Food and Agriculture Organization Council (FAO) of the United Nations, United Nations Educational, Scientific, Cultural Organization (UNESCO), Nigel Crawhall, Bureau 1.086, Natural Sciences Sector, UNESCO, 7 Place du Fontenoy, Paris 75007, France, The Gaia Foundation, Connery Scott (Founder of TEK TALK and ORCA), WILDHUB, Thirza Loffeld (WILDHUB Founder, WILDHUB Conservation Community), Flavia Manieri (WILDHUB Community Coordinator/Interdisciplinary Researcher for Uppsala University), Derek Harvey—Wildlife Biologist for U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS), Johann Hoschtialek—Founder: 195in365 Inc., Jovana Hoschtialek--195in365 Inc., 195in365 Inc., all known zoos, aquariums, botanical gardens, national parks, universities, governmental organizations, non-profit organizations, tribal organizations, farming or agricultural organizations, individual communities that are working to save and conserve our wildlife/species/natural resources for future generations. All grantees utilizing research from the book series “Integrated Human-Nature Relations” must give sources cited and credit to Mr. Tyler Pounds. Mr. Tyler Pounds was the founder and creator of the new scientific field and school of thought “Integrated Human-Nature Relations”. Any grantee who fails to give credit or sources cited from “Integrated Human-Nature Relations” to Mr. Tyler Pounds will be considered academic and literary plagiarism and could still face legal consequences for such said plagiarism.

Written on this day: Thursday, April 30th, 2026

Signed: Tyler Magee Pounds

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Tyler Pounds', followed by a stylized flourish or mark.